Vintage Wilson NFL Super Bowl XXIX American Football.

This is an authentic 1995 Super Bowl XXIX official NFL leather game football, Paul Tagliabue Commissioner. The ball was produced by Wilson to commemorate the game between San Diego Chargers and San Francisco 49ers. The American Rugby Football ball has a double white laced top and a bladder inflation hole, inflate to 13LBS. The ball is marked 'Wilson, Official Paul Tagliabue Commissioner, Super Bowl XXIX, National Football League, NFC Champion vs AFC Champion, Miami, FL, January 29, 1995'.

A great ball with typical wear for a ball of this age and a true piece of NFL Super Bowl collectible sports history.

The stand is sold separately.

Super Bowl XXIX was an American football game between the American Football Conference (AFC) champion San Diego Chargers and the National Football Conference (NFC) champion San Francisco 49ers to decide the National Football League (NFL) champion for the 1994 season. This is the only Super Bowl in history to be played between two teams from the same state. The 49ers defeated the Chargers by the score of 49-26, becoming the first team to win five Super Bowl championships. The game was played on January 29, 1995 at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami, Florida.

Paul John Tagliabue (born November 24, 1940) is a former Commissioner of the National Football League. He took the position in 1989 and was succeeded by Roger Goodell in 2006.
