Description

Antique Oak Display Cabinet

An oak wall-hanging display cabinet in a classic, vintage style, featuring two front-facing glass panel doors and two glazed side panels. The doors are fitted with a central brass catch, and the glass allows clear visibility of displayed items from multiple angles while helping to protect them from dust and damage. Inside, two wooden shelves provide ample space for arranging curios, china, or collectibles. The cabinet is fitted with two brassed keyhole plates for easy wall mounting. A charming and practical display cabinet, ideal for use as a curio cabinet, china display, or collector's cabinet.
