Description

Antique Ebonized Golf Ball Display Cabinet.

A Victorian wall display cabinet converted to exhibit 23 golf balls. The cabinet is with a single glazed lockable door and dark blue crushed velvet background. The balls sit on individually turned ebonized wooden display stands that are secured onto the three shelves. The stands are on copper pins so can be easily rearranged on the shelves to your own liking. The glass door gives a clear view of each and every golf ball on display, whilst helping to protect the balls from dust and damage. The twenty three balls are sold with the cabinet and range from 1890's gutty ball to 1960's Dunlop 65. It is a good varied selection of gutta-percha, rubber core, mesh, bramble and dimple golf balls, there is even a reproduction feathery.
