Description

The Golf Club: 400 Years of the Good, the Beautiful & the Creative.

A true masterpiece of golf literature, 'The Golf Club' by Jeffery B. Ellis stands as a magnificent celebration of the artistry and innovation behind golf's most iconic instrument - the club.

This Limited Edition, No. 137 of just 400 copies, is signed by the author and exquisitely bound in leather with gilt-edged pages and a matching slipcase. Published in 2003, it includes a foreword by Rand Jerris, Ph.D., Director of the USGA Museum and Archives.

Spanning 191 pages, this beautifully crafted volume is lavishly illustrated with full-colour photographs that capture some of the world's most valuable, rare, and historically significant golf clubs. Ellis's meticulous research - drawn from original sources - brings to life both the clubs and the craftsmen, inventors, and players who shaped golf's evolution over four centuries.

Chapters explore legendary designs and milestones such as the Square Toe, Long Nose, Johnston Patent, Bulger, Schenectady, Backspin, Steel Shaft, Fancy Face, Classic Persimmon, and Graphite & Titanium. Comprehensive, elegant, and deeply informative, The Golf Club serves as both an indispensable reference for collectors and a stunning coffee-table centrepiece for any lover of the game. A must-have addition to any serious golf library.
