Description

Moser - Roland Ward Safari Glassware.

A magnificent and highly collectible safari glassware set inspired by the celebrated wildlife artistry of Roland Ward and masterfully crafted by the renowned glassmaker Moser. This extraordinary ensemble from the Big Game Safari Range comprises a beautifully proportioned cut-glass lemonade jug of refined form, accompanied by six exquisitely crafted tumblers. The jug is adorned with an engraved and delicately frosted giraffe, standing in serene elegance against the brilliance of finely cut crystal. Each of the six glasses features a different African animal, intricately engraved within its own landscape scene - Lion, Buffalo, Waterbuck, Elephant, Giraffe, and Rhino. The frosted wildlife contrasts strikingly with the clarity and sparkle of the hand-cut glass, creating depth, movement, and lifelike character.

The craftsmanship reflects Moser's legendary precision and artistry, with sharp, radiant cuts that beautifully capture and refract light. The balance of refined European crystal-making tradition with the timeless romance of African safari imagery makes this set both visually captivating and culturally evocative. A fantastic and rare collector's piece - equally suited for display in a distinguished cabinet or for elevating elegant entertaining with a touch of safari grandeur.

Condition: All items are in perfect condition with no chips or cracks.

Dimensions: The size shown is for the jug. The tumblers are 9 ½ cm high, 7 ½ cm diameter.
