A good large leather shooting cartridge magazine case by the renowned British gunmaker, Holland & Holland, 98 New Bond Street, London. The cartridge case with oak carcass covered in tan leather, it has a brass lock but it is not in working order. The magazine case is in good original condition with two original leather straps, brass corner protectors and single leather central carry handle. The interior with polished oak, green felt bottom and containing five replaced removable ply dividers, making six compartments, adjustable cartridge lifting straps missing. The inside of the lid is dark red baize with a paper 'Holland & Holland' makers label. The top stamped with the initials 'H.H.G' and with a plain brass disc.

A cartridge magazine is a traditional method of storing cartridges between shoots. When on a shoot the cartridges needed would be removed and placed in a cartridge bag.
