The Holcombe Hunt - Deluxe Limited Edition (1937).

A distinguished deluxe limited edition of The Holcombe Hunt, published in 1937 by Sherratt and Hughes at The Saint Ann's Press, Manchester. Limited to 350 signed and numbered copies, with this particular volume being No. 35.

Compiled by Arthur N. Walker, M.H., and featuring a foreword by The Rt. Hon. The Earl of Derby, the book offers a rich historical portrait of the Holcombe Hunt and its sporting traditions. The frontispiece depicts His Late Majesty King George V inspecting the Hounds at Hoghton Tower, 1913. The volume contains 169 numbered pages, printed in Great Britain with the fine craftsmanship typical of Sherratt and Hughes.

Elegantly bound in its original red cloth, the book is beautifully decorated with gilt titles to the spine and gilt embellishments to the front cover. The copy remains in very good condition, with only minimal signs of age, and the interior is clean, bright, and well preserved.

A highly desirable collector's item, this edition appeals to enthusiasts of equestrian history, foxhunting, and traditional sporting publications, representing both the heritage and enduring artistry of early 20th-century bookmaking.
