Description

Antique Mahogany Pembroke Table.

A charming and highly usable antique Pembroke table, crafted in rich mahogany and full of classic period detail. The rounded rectangular drop-leaf top offers versatility, measuring 57 cm wide with both leaves down, while each leaf extends a further 27 cm-ideal for adapting the table to suit your space.

The table features a single working drawer, complemented by an opposing dummy drawer for symmetry, both framed by elegant small reeded columns. It stands on finely turned and reeded legs, finished with brass caps and original-style castors for ease of movement.

The drop leaves are supported by swing-out arms, ensuring stability when extended. Compact yet practical, this is a lovely example of a traditional Pembroke table-perfect as a side table, occasional table, or compact dining piece.

A timeless and decorative piece that blends functionality with classic antique appeal.
