Description

Brass Center Shafted Chickopee Putter.
A vintage 1960's Spalding 'Chickopee' Putter with hickory shaft. The original 'Chickopee' putter was first available from Spaling's 1919 catalogue, and ran until 1925. The design was very simple, a combination of a flanged back and center-shafted head which has stood the test of time and has been seen in various guises. The putter made a reappearance when Spalding remade the 'Chickopee' Putter in the 1960's. The club is in good usable condition with a polished leather grip, the handle has a flat surface on the front edge.

The measurements shown are the length of the shaft with hosel and the width and depth of the face.
