

Cromwell Motorcycle Helmet, Vincent

Sold

Description

Vintage Cromwell Motorcycle Helmet, The 'Noll'.

A black helmet made in England by Cromwell, The 'Noll'. The pudding basin motorcycle helmet is fitted with a material headband and straps keeping a space between the head and outer case of the helmet. Strong leather neck and ear flaps are also fitted as is a chin strap. Inside the helmet is a Cromwell cloth label.

There is a 'Vincent' decal on the front of the helmet with crazing and chips to the paint work.

A very nice helmet in great, well used condition with excellent patina and character with approximately, size 56, 6 7/8.

Display block not included but available to purchase.

Vincent Motorcycles remains one of the most prestigious brands of manufacturers of British bikes. They came to be when Phil Vincent bought the name and rights to HRD in 1928. HRD Motors Ltd was an established British motorcycle manufacturer in the early 1920's. It was founded by Howard Raymond Davies who had worked in motorcycling and had raced with some success. HRD motorcycles were produced for a limited time from 1924 to 1928. They had a very good reputation for performance but the undercapitalised company struggled to survive. As HRD was an established brand Phil Vincent capitalised on their name by incorporated it in to his new company 'The Vincent HRD Company Ltd'. Vincent survived until 1955 when the company discontinued motorcycle production after experiencing financial losses.